VIAANTE'S RECENT UPDATES

Viaante recently partnered with Healthware Systems to offer integrated services to the Healthcare Industry.

RPA BOTS: Viaante's software robots (V-BOTS) are designed to communicate directly with other software applications and websites using the user interface that is already in place. The robot will log into any application, navigate the user interface, fill in fields, respond to prompts, capture results, and perform all of the same tasks as a human. Software robots may adapt to particular use cases and outliers using artificial intelligence to manage nearly any circumstance or job procedure.

Active XCHANGE: ActiveXCHANGE is like a digital mailroom. It's a bi-directional gateway that efficiently manages incoming information objects (physician orders, fax, print, scan, DM, and other data) and transforms them into actionable information by delivering them in virtually any format to their ultimate destination.
